

Impleader Review Supplement

[Review the facts of Jurisdiction, Venue, and Choice of Law Assessment Exercise no. II from Class 10A, and add the following:] After receiving the summons and complaint in the woman's action, MedForms filed a third-party complaint against the company, seeking to join it as a third-party defendant in the action. MedForms alleged that the company's data-entry errors constituted a breach of contract. MedForms sought $500,000 in damages from the company.

The company has moved to dismiss MedForms's third-party complaint for improper joinder. How should the District Court rule on the company's motion?
